Cookies for a Cause December 17th

Roanoke, VA - The Advancement Foundation and its LEAP program participants baked cookies for the Children's Theater in order to give back to the community! The Advancement Foundation works to lead community wide social change by improving the lives of the underprivileged. The Foundation accomplishes this work by: first, helping create sustainability for local health and human service nonprofits; and, secondly through the LEAP Program, which assists the underprivileged in job skill training and developing and executing a life improvement plan. As part of the LEAP (Lift Educate Advocate Proclaim) program the participants volunteer an average of 125 hours of per week in order to give back to the community.

The women in the LEAP program have baked 16 dozen cookies and donated them to the Children's Theater Christmas Cookie's Production in Roanoke! The LEAP participants are taking advantage of this opportunity to develop their job skills while also giving back to the community in a positive way!
